KODA Tots Language Stimulation Group

The Gallaudet University Hearing and Speech Center (GUHSC) is offering a KODA Tots Language Stimulation Group for toddlers (age 1-2) who are children of deaf/hard-of hearing parents. This group is designed for young preschool children to develop their early spoken English language skills in a fun, play-based, bilingual, early intervention environment. Speech-language pathologists facilitate and support the development and expansion of the participants' speech and language skills, while reinforcing sign language skills during child-centered, hands-on activities within thematic units. Skill areas addressed include the following: speech, expressive and receptive language, social skills, and early literacy.

This fall's KODA Tots group is being offered on Thursdays between September 14, 2017 and December 7, 2017. The advanced registration deadline is September 11, 2017.

*Additional registrations will be accepted on an ongoing basis if space is available.

(*Contingent upon group numbers.)

Please contact gretchen.cronin@gallaudet.edu for more information.

 Services and session availability are contingent upon the number of children enrolled

Our Language Stimulation Group focuses on the following skills/experiences:

• Language & Listening Skills

Our overall goal is to foster spoken language and listening in a natural play-based environment using a variety of themes. We use a number of different techniques to foster language learning, including auditory sandwiching, whereby your children’s knowledge of vocabulary in ASL is linked to new vocabulary in English. For each theme, we will incorporate activities, stories, and songs that provide numerous repetitions of the theme-based vocabulary and many opportunities for your children to learn and say (or begin to imitate) these new words to express their wants, needs and experiences.

• Sensory Play

Sensory play includes any activity that stimulates your young child’s senses: touch, smell, taste, sight and hearing. Through the use of sensory play we narrate our play activities, your child’s play, and provide opportunities for your child to express him/herself.

• Dramatic/Pretend Play & Literacy

Your children will be involved in dramatic/pretend play and story time each week. During circle time, we will read a story that fits our weekly theme. We will often involve the children in various “scripts” and play activities related to the story, as well.

• Gross and Fine Motor Skills

To develop fine- and gross-motor skills we will engage your children in movement activities during circle time and encourage the use of fine (gesturing) and gross (jumping) motor skills. For example, to encourage fine- motor skills we may play with rice at the sensory table or play with “building toys” requiring using of dexterity.
